35) With reference to the draft Bill in the file, it is not very clear if the substitution of the words 'Palace Band' for the words 'English Band' is necessary. The Palace Band has, in Go. no. G1284-50 the 1174-50-1 dt 6.1.21, been ordered to be attached to the Palace Bar Infantry as desired by the Pl Secy to H.H. Since therefore the expression 'the Bar Battalion (Infantry)' occurring in Para 93 of the Regulations includes the Palace Band, no mention of the Palace or the English Band seems necessary in the said provision. In this view, the words occurring 'and the English Band attached to the Palace of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore' occurring at the end of the Para may, it seems, be omitted and the word 'and' inserted before the words 'the Yelle Force'.

Final Note by the Second Member of Council. 15

Subject:—

Bill further to amend the Mysore Military Regulation, 1899.

43) When the Bill further to amend the Military Regulation, 1899 - since passed into law as Regulation I of 1920 - providing among other matters, for the extension of the Regulation to the Palace Troops including the Silahdar Horses, the English Band attached to the Palace, etc., the Residency wanted to know if the expression 'English Band' included in the new provision was meant to refer to the 'Palace Band' and, if so, whether that Band was attached to any of the Military Units so as to bring the men serving therein within the scope of the Military Regulation. The Private Secretary to His Highness, who was consulted in the matter, stated in his D.O. letter No. 1396 dated 1st June 1920 that the term 'English Band' meant the 'Palace Band' and that it would be better to use the words 'the Palace Band' in the Bill. He also suggested that as the said Band was not attached to any Regiment or Military Unit it is most desirable to bring the Bandsmen under Military discipline so that the Band may be regarded as attached to the Palace Barr Infantry for purposes of the Military Regulation. The Residency were informed that action would be taken accordingly.

44) Orders having been issued in Government Proceedings No. S. 12849-50/M-174-20-2 dated 6th January 1921, directing that the Palace Band be attached to the Palace Barr Infantry, the question of further amending para 93 of the Military Regulation as suggested by the Private Secretary to His Highness was taken up, and the draft Bill prepared accordingly provides for the deletion of the words rendered superfluous in the said provision as a result of the Government Order of 6th January 1921, and it also makes it clear that the Band in question bears the designation of the 'Palace Band' by eliminating the word 'English'.

45) The Draft Bill was considered at the meeting of the Council held on 14th July 1921 and the Members are of opinion that the Bill may promulgated into law. The Bill does not come within the scope of the Legislative Council Regulation and as such it is not necessary to place it before the Legislative Council.

26/ The opinion of the Council may be graciously approved. The Bill will be promulgated as law after obtaining the usual sanction of the Government of India required in such cases.

1st June 1920.

My dear Sir,

I am directed to reply to your D.O. No.C.B.1699 dated 10th of May.

The term "English Band" means the "Palace Band" and it would be better to use the words "The Palace Band," in the Bill. The Band, referred to, is not attached to any Regiment or Military unit but it is used for Military purposes on special occasions. I am to say that it is most desirable to bring the Bandsmen under Military descipline, as they are very prone to neglect their duty and even to desert.

Yours sincerely,
